Serial Port Monitor Pro 7.0.312 Crack - CrackingPatchingQ: Showing active JS elements in dropdown menu My dropdown menu is having some problem: specifically, it does not show any active items upon initializing the menu. The rest, the active items and the items that are not activated, do show up properly. So I did some troubleshooting. I modified the code I use for each individual item, and it turns out that the problem is where I generate the list of the items, where the initial part shows the selected item properly (which it is by default) I also tried altering a bit the action that a click event should have when I clicked on the dropdown menu, which is to show a div (where I put the elements on, anyway); it almost works but I can't make it work in IE, for some reason... So, I'd like to ask you for help in order to fix this (I tried everything I could think of, if someone could point to something I missed would be great), I'd like to avoid using the active class attribute.
