Keymacro is a free keyboard macro software. The software is primarily designed to be used with any computer running Windows, Mac, Linux or Chrome OS. Keymacro can be set to recognize and execute preset keyboard macros with the press of a single key. Keymacro is not designed to be a replacement for a dedicated keyboard controller. You would be better off using an external keyboard controller to assign macros to keyboard shortcuts. There are also other keyboard controllers on the market that are specifically designed to be used with Keymacro.

Installation: Please ensure you have the latest version of Keymacro installed on your Windows computer before running the installer. You can view the latest version from: -
- - Please use the download link on the download page to retrieve the latest version of the installer. 1) Close any running instances of Keymacro or other software that use the 'Sndbuf' library. 2) Download and run the installer. 3) Once the installation is complete, open Keymacro, and ensure you can control the behaviour of the application from the Main Menu. 4) Close Keymacro, and open the 'Sndbuf' library. This will ensure that the library is closed and deleted. 5) You will be prompted to import 'Sndbuf', click 'OK'. 6) Import 'Sndbuf' to the 'Sndbuf' library. 7) Open Keymacro and select 'Start Recording'. 8) Select the 'Start Recording' option. 9) Close Keymacro when done. Features:

Keymacro can be used to record up to 10 different macros, each of which can be used independently. Macros can be performed in any order by selecting the macro to record, then selecting the macro to run. The recorded macros can be saved for future use. You can create as many macros as you want. Macros are saved in .txt files, which are saved into a folder in the 'Sndbuf' library. Macros can be imported/exported to and from the .txt files. Macros can be edited in .txt files using Notepad. Macros can be saved to 2edc1e01e8

KEYMACRO aims to simplify the life of live sound professionals with a powerful and simple application.

KeyMacro was created by Martine Thill after being a sound engineer for 15 years. Martine is a seasoned touring musician who understands the struggles of running a live sound rig on a tour bus.

KEYMACRO solves many of the issues that touring musicians have with the sound of their live show. The KeyMacro app can change the parameters of a sound file in real time based on the dynamics and dynamics changes of a song. The soundman can select a specific region of the song that would benefit the most from a louder volume or a lower pitch. The app can be automated so that the soundman has complete control of the automation without writing code.

KEYMACRO is not just for touring musicians. The app is great for live mixing as it lets the sound engineer control the level of any sound in the show and makes it a lot easier to monitor the mix. The app is also easy to set up and does not require any special knowledge. Just drag and drop your audio files into the app, load it on your device and KeyMacro is ready to go!
